

About Us

About Arjowiggins Creative Papers

At Arjowiggins Creative Papers, there is a history of producing fine and custom-made papers that extends back to 1770. From our Anglo-French roots we have grown into a leading paper manufacturer with a global reach, marrying nearly 250 years of experience, knowledge and skill to the most advanced technology available, to serve customers large and small worldwide.

Our engineers and scientists continuously explore new processes, technologies and ideas, and the products of their research and development keep the creative possibilities of paper alive and flourishing.

Since 1770, we've been making fine papers for people who create fine ideas. It is our quest today and it will be tomorrow.

The environment

Respect for people, for tradition and for the environment are values we hold dear.

All of our papers are ECF FSC™-certified (FSC™ C018501). Our mills comply with ISO 14001 (Environmental Management), and our mill at Stoneywood is also ISO 50001 (Energy Management)-compliant. The use of alternative materials, such as fast-growing, renewable textured whites to metallic finishes and coloured boards.

In the UK, Ireland, Benelux, Nordics, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, New Zealand and Australia, we make Conqueror papers carbon-neutral. We do this by working constantly to reduce carbon emissions in the production and delivery of the paper, and compensating for the remaining emissions through the sponsorship of carbon-reduction projects.

About Antalis

Arjowiggins Creative Papers manufactures papers for designers, printers and clients worldwide. Antalis makes sure they reach them. As sister companies, we work hand-in-hand to produce and distribute the full range of papers and envelopes across five continents.

Antalis is a guarantee of fast, reliable, secure delivery. It's also a valuable source of authoritative, face-to-face advice and information on our products. At Antalis showrooms, customers can browse the full collection of papers, study real printed applications, receive trustworthy technical advice, samples and swatches, and order trial packs. And at Antalis events, paper-lovers from the graphic and print industries can meet and get connected.

Find your local Antalis office or paper shop or visit www.antalis.com.
